HENRY CLAY BUNTING, WAR VETERAN WITH FINE RECORD, DIES AT DUNBAR

Participated in Many Hard-Fought Battles; Was Once Postmaster of the Town.

Special to The Courier.

DUNBAR, Oct. 8.—After an illness of but three days of pneumonia, Henry Clay Bunting, for more than 45 years a resident of Dunbar, and one of its best known and most prominent citizens, passed away at his home on Woodvale street, at 2 A. M. Monday, aged 80 years. A Civil War veteran with a long and honorable record, the hero of a 100 hard-fought battles including Antietam, Gettysburg and Appomattox, present at the surrender of Gen. Lee, participating in the grand review in Washington, D. C., in 1865 and doing his bit on every occasion, wearing his bit on every occasion, he was only briefly taking up after the war his trade as carpenter and serving his country in peace as faithfully as in war, he leaves as a heritage to his surviving children and relatives a record of which they may well be proud. His modesty is well shown by the following account of his war services from his own pen:

"I enlisted at Uniontown, Fayette county, Pa., on the 19th of April, 1861, at the first call for troops, under Capt. L. D. Oliphant, which was the first company mustered into the U. S. service from Fayette county. Was mustered in at Pittsburg, April 22, 1861, and served in Co. G 191 Pa., until the close of the war. Mustered out of service at Arlington Heights, Va., on the 28th of June, 1865. Between the lines of his brief statement might be written many interesting pages of war history.

Henry Clay Bunting was born in Uniontown, August 4, 1839, and was the son of the late Redding Bunting. He attended the Uniontown public schools, and after his school life learned the trade of carpenter. Returning from the war he on April 10, 1866, married Miss Phoebe Jane Woods of Uniontown who died about five years ago. To them were born seven children, one of whom, Mrs. Anna B. Tarr, is deceased. The others, Miss Hattie, and Mrs. Mary B. Wood, at home, Mrs. Ella B. Hodgkins of Perryopolis, Redding of Pittsburg, and Joseph and Henry of Dunbar, survive him. He is also survived by eight grandchildren and one great grand child, and two sisters, Mrs. Anna Craig of Uniontown, and Mrs. Alice Frankenberg of Smithfield, and one brother, William Bunting of Pittsburg. Shortly after his marriage Mr. Bunting located in Dunbar and lived there ever since. For many years he was chief carpenter and pattern-maker at the furnace from which position he retired to become postmaster of Dunbar. He was one of the best public officers the town ever had. Of late years he had followed his trade when his health permitted.

The funeral from the Bunting home on Woodvale street at 8 o'clock Thursday morning with services conducted by Rev. W. H. McKivney pastor of the Baptist church, assisted by Rev. Bolton of the M. P. church. Burial in Uniontown on the family lot in Oak Grove cemetery.

The members of Will F. Stewart Post, G. A. R., of Uniontown, of which he has long been a member, will have charge of the funeral rites. Undertaker J. T. Burhans is conducting the funeral.

Too Ill to Work

Scores of Women

in homes, stores, offices and factories are not fit to be at work. They toil on day after day and year after year suffering with distressing weaknesses and derangements, hoping against hope that they will soon feel better, but how can they hope to do good work or escape permanent invalidism?

Such women are in danger of derangement of women's functions. They owe it to themselves to try that good old fashioned root and herb remedy Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which for more than forty years has been restoring American Women to health and strength.

Here is a Notable Example

Joplin, Missouri.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to see if it really would do as it was advertised and it sure did, and more. I was weak and could not do much work, had bearing down pains and had to go to bed. I learned about the Vegetable Compound from my mother and my husband told me to get it. After taking one bottle I was able to be on my feet most of the time and do my work again. I have a baby eleven months old and I have done all my own work, even the washing and ironing since she was three weeks old. I certainly recommend your great medicine to everyone who complains of female trouble and I am more than willing for you to use my testimonial."

—Mrs. TIMOTHY CRANEY, 426 Connor Ave., Joplin, Mo.

And Another

Chicago, Illinois.—"I suffered for four years with pains in my sides, hips and legs and a terrible backache. I could not do any work at all. I was treated by many physicians but they did not help me. I read in one of your books where other women have been helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, so I tried it and it helped me very much so that now I can do everything in the house. I have told my friends about Vegetable Compound and you have my permission to use this letter."

HARD TO SECURE STREET LABOR

Committee Asks That Rate of Pay Be Raised, as It Is Unable to Get Any Men for $3.25 a Day; School Board Holds Meeting; Other News Notes.

Special to The Courier.

SCOTSDALE, Oct. 8.—The Scottdale borough council held its regular monthly meeting on Monday evening. Bills were paid and a petition against the ordinance prohibiting the parking of automobiles along Broadway, signed by business men of that street, was presented. William Bendner of Bendner's Broadway Ladies' Store, spoke in opposition to it and asked that the ordinance be not passed. Mr. Newbrough then spoke and this was followed by a talk by Mr. Steiner. On motion, the proposed ordinance was turned back to the committee for revision.

Burgess B. C. Fretts said there should be some regulation on Broadway for the safety of citizens and the traveling public. There was no desire to work a hardship on the merchants or to the advantage of others when it was drawn up, it was shown.

The treasurer's report follows: Sinking fund, $2,668.29; water fund, $1,514.82; paving fund, $410.79; garbage fund, $8,133.78; total, $13,207.68. The street committee reported that efficient labor could not be secured for a day's work for $3.25 a day. The committee asked that the finance committee allow for four men at $4 per day. They were authorized to pay 45 cents an hour and get good men for the work.

The water hearing was discussed and it was announced that the public service commission has set Thursday, October 9, as the day for the hearing, at 9:30 A. M., in room 507 of the City-County building, Pittsburgh. Council asks every interested citizen who can to be present Thursday morning for the hearing.

D. of I. Initiation.

Initiation was held by the Daughters of Isabella in St. John's parochial hall Sunday afternoon. Out of town guests were present from McKeesport, Jeannette, Conneltsville, Greensburg and Latrobe. Immediately following the ceremonies, delicious refreshments were served for which much praise is due the banquet committee, of which Mrs. E. F. Doolley was chairman.

Notice.

For some time it has been the habit of several persons in Scottdale to punch the putty from between the large plate glass windows at McCrory's Five and Ten Cent Store, putting wire through the hole and upsetting merchandise displayed there. This practice has resulted in considerable damage and putting the large plate glass window in great danger. Mr. Pfaff, the manager, wishes to announce that these persons are known and unless they cease this practice he will start legal proceedings against them. He hopes they realize that this will be a serious matter if one of the large windows is broken. —Adv. 8-11.

School Board Meeting.

At Monday night's school board meeting the following business was transacted: H. R. Lyne and Walter Null were appointed auditors by the court to audit the last year's school reports. Miss Evans, art teacher, who had been engaged for three days a week, hereafter will be engaged four days each week in the local schools. Permission was granted Miss Myers, domestic science teacher, to use this department one evening each week for the purpose of giving instruction to persons above the school age who are interested. Similar arrangements will be made in the manual training department if desired.

Six O'clock Dinner.

Mrs. C. C. Bash entertained at a 6 o'clock chicken and waffle dinner Friday evening in honor of her brother, Albert T. Hemp, who has returned home from overseas. Covers were laid for 12. After dinner musical selections were rendered on the piano and victrola and a social hour followed.

Exam October 10.

Word was received yesterday that examinations for night school certificates will be held Friday evening, October 10, at 6:30 o'clock, instead of on Saturday, October 11, at the high school building.

Sure Relief

Doctor Tells How to Detect Harmful Effects of Tobacco Try These SIMPLE TESTS

New York: Doctor Connor, formerly of Johns Hopkins hospital, says: Many men who smoke, chew or sniff incessantly and who are seemingly healthy are suffering from progressive organic ailments. Thousands of them would never have been afflicted had it not been for the use of tobacco and thousands would soon get well if they would only stop the use of tobacco. The chief habit forming principle of tobacco is nicotine, a deadly poison which, when absorbed by the system slowly affects the nerves, membranes, tissues and vital organs of the body. The harmful effect of tobacco varies and depends on circumstances. One will be afflicted with general debility, others with catarrh of the throat, indigestion, constipation, extreme nervousness, sleeplessness, loss of memory, lack of will power, mental confusion, etc. Others may suffer from heart disease, bronchial trouble, hardening of the arteries, tuberculosis, blindness or even cancer of the common affections known as tobacco heart. If you use tobacco in any form you can easily detect the harmful effects by making the following simple tests. Read aloud one full page from a book. If in the course of reading your voice becomes muffled, hoarse and indistinct, and you must frequently clear your throat, the chances are that your throat is affected by catarrh and it may be the beginning of more serious trouble. Next, in the morning before taking your usual smoke, walk up three flights of stairs at a regular pace, then stop. If you find that you are out of breath, your heart beats, is forced, trembling or irregular, you may be a victim of functional or organic heart trouble. If you feel that you must smoke, chew or sniff to quiet your nerves, you are a slave to the tobacco habit, and are positively poisoning yourself with the deadly drug, nicotine. In either case you have just two alternatives—keep on with the self-poisoning process, or give up the habit. You can overcome the craving and stop the habit in a very short time by using the following inexpensive formula. Go to any drug store and ask for Nicotol tablets, take one tablet after each meal, and in a comparatively short time you will have no desire for tobacco, the craving will have left you. With the nicotine poison out of your system your general health will quickly improve.

NOTE.—When asked "about Nicotol tablets," one of our leading druggists said: "It is truly a wonderful remedy for the tobacco habit; away ahead of anything we have ever sold before. We are authorized by the manufacturers to refund the money to every dissatisfied customer, and we would not permit the use of our name unless the remedy possessed unusual merit." Nicotol tablets are sold in this city under an iron-clad money-back guarantee by all up-to-date druggists, including J. C. Moore.—Adv.

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

It's no longer necessary to go into the details describing the practical merits of the Ford car—everybody knows all about "The Universal Car." How it goes and comes day after day and year after year at an operating expense so small that it's wonderful. This advertisement is to urge prospective buyers to place orders without delay. Buy a Ford car when you can get one. We'll take good care of your order—get your Ford to you as soon as possible—and give the best in "after-service" when required.

WEDNESDAY EVEN. OCT. 8, 1919.

NOT THE DUTY OF SERVICE MEN ONLY.

As the strike develops, no fact becomes clearer than that the anarchist and vindictive elements to whom Foster and his associates have made appeal are the direct and moving causes of trouble wherever it has occurred in the strike centers. Believing they will be permitted to put into practice in America the Bolshev-ist doctrine many of them learned in Europe, these blatin, posies of revolution apparently do not appreciate that Americans are not going to stand for a reorganization of society according to Red rule and methods.
But these alien trouble makers are due for a rude awakening—in fact they are already being awakened to a realization that this is the United States of America and the disorganized countries and provinces of Europe.

Yesterday afforded an illustration of this when a detachment of officers under the direction of F. Warren Hill on ex-sergeant of Marines rounded up a bunch of Reds at Weirton, W. Va.
confiscated a lot of anarchist literature, compelled each individual member to kneel and kiss the folds of the Stars and Stripes, then chased the whole outfit out of town.

The spirit of the ex-servicemen and of all red, red blooded citizens who are determined the Red rule shall not find foothold in the America manifested not alone in the action of Sergeant Hill but in the statement made by him after the stirring incident of the day had been closed.

"I thought when I left France that the war was over so far as I was concerned, but I find now that a lot of fellows who would neither work nor fight while the war was on are trying to overthrow this government," said Sergeant Hill.

"These fellows are trying their damndest to overthrow everything that stands for America and American-ism," he continued. "It makes my blood boil to think that I went to France and fought risking my life day after day for nearly 14 months for a dollar a day, while these fellows, most of them making as much in two days as I made in a month, were over here spreading the same doctrine that now has Russia wading a blood up to the neck. I don't know what made me do what I did today. I guess it was just because I couldn't stand seeing that crowd of anarchists—yes, they are anarchists of the worst type—trying to run this place. And when I saw those red flags on all their literature I just got beyond myself. If any man in that crowd had kissed the flag I don't know what I would have done."

With the ex-servicemen standing resolute and firm in support of the principles they fought to maintain the country may feel a sure that we are not going to be overrun by the same kind of a bomb throwing, plundering mob of long haired and short brained bolshies as anarchists and syndical-ists who have wrought industrial and economic ruin in Russia. But this job must not be committed to the ex-servicemen alone, but dandy able as they are to handle it with neatness and dispatch. The author tries national state and local and all those who would deserve the title of good citizens, must be alert to their duties and responsibilities and unafraid in assuming and discharging them.

Record of Printers
During the War

By M. G. Scott, President I T U.

With the signing of the Treaty of Peace the combined military and industrial forces of America reached the objectives to which they were assigned in the world's great war. In this tremendous struggle no group of workers has given more loyal and effective cooperation than have the members of the International Typographical Union. On the firing line and in the workshops we have supported the governments under which we live with unfaltering determination. Many sacrifices have been necessary and these have been made courageously and without flinching.
The institutions which we have established have been preserved intact through this critical period. Every responsibility has been met and the organization is stronger numerically and in financial resources than at any time in its history.

Briefly reviewed the activities of the International Typographical Union since the outbreak of the war in August 1914 may be summarized as follows:

Old Age Pension $1,695,130.00
Mortuary Benefits 1,071,672.58
Union Printers' Home 678,676.12

To it in five years $7,888,474.18

Of the $7,888,474.18 disbursed for beneficial purposes during the last five years every dollar was paid into the treasury by the members of the union and not one dollar was contributed by voluntary subscription solicited from any person.

When the armistice was signed the incomplete reports received from local secretaries showed that more than 7,000 members of the organization were in uniform. The names of 83 members of our Canadian unions and 146 members of unions in the United States are included in the casualty lists. To the beneficiaries of these men who gave their lives in battle or who died in service mortuary benefits amounting to $62,540 have been paid.

The Executive Council has subserviced to each issue of war bonds and our investments in these securities now aggregate $225,000.

The gross earnings of the membership are reflected in the receipts from the pension and mortuary assessments which were: Old age pension, $411,559.42; mortuary fund $412,682.
25 total $824,241.67.

As these two assessments combined represent one per cent of the earnings of our members the gross earnings for the year as compared with those for the preceding fiscal year show an increase of $10,708,153.

The average paying membership for the fiscal year was 65,203 a gain of 2,542 over the preceding year.

The increased revenue derived through the new system which requires the individual payments of members to be recorded at headquarters together with scale increases obtained during the past year enabled the executive council to recommend that the old age pension be increased from $5 to $6 per week, or $312 a year.

Notwithstanding the fact that the mortuary benefits paid in the year ending May 31, 1919 were $386,346.70, as compared with $312,126.27 in 1918, an increase of about $74,000 the reserve in the mortuary fund increased $29,000 during the fiscal year. Since it is a fact that the larger part of the increased payments from this fund can be attributed to the influenza epidemic of last winter, the executive council is justified in recommending that the mortuary benefits for members in good standing ten years or more be increased from $400 to $500.

Without Argument.

Life
After a young lawyer had talked nearly five hours to a jury who felt like yielding him his opponent a girl like old veteran arose looked squarely at the judge and said: "Your Honor, I will follow the example of my young friend who has just finished and submit the case without argument."

LEGION'S STATEMENTS

In Resolution Concerning I amon De Valera, Answered by Father Hackett.

To the Connelville Courier
Dear Sir:
I notice by The Courier that the American Legion of Pennsylvania has unanimously adopted a resolution which disparages the character and courage of I amon De Valera, president of the Irish Republic.

If the resolution is a sample of the manner in which this Legion will uphold it, honor of the American name they should eliminate the word
"American" from their title. American upholds truth above all things.

In this resolution statements are made without proof. Some of these statements are so evidently false that a slight investigation would show their falseness. I shall now answer in detail.

1.—Was I amon De Valera born in Rome? No.

He was born at Brooklyn, N. Y. in 1857 and taken to Ireland 1861.

2.—Does he now claim American citizenship?

He claims that he is not an American citizen because he voluntarily gave it up when he took up arms for another country—Ireland. I am under sentence of death as a rebel he did seek a reprieve claiming American citizenship but he was ready to die as a citizen of Ireland.

3.—Is he a draft dodger?

As a citizen of the Irish Republic he fought against great odds for his adopted country against the "foreign invader."

4.—Did he treat with the enemy (German)?

This is an exploded bomb of English propaganda.

5.—Did he seek to form a subversive base upon the Irish coast?

This is a false and without the slightest foundation of truth to rest on.
England put him in prison without trial and even without any definite charge against him they kept him in prison under martial law.

6.—Is he now asking for American protection?

He is not asking for any personal protection. There is no charge against him by the English law. He is asked to return to the Irish Republic where he is a free citizen. The Irish Republic has recognized the Irish right for independence.

He is not a self styled president of the Irish Republic, because he was chosen to fill that office by eighty per cent of the Irish people at a regular election last November.

We fought for the freedom of every nation by the self determination of that nation. The honor of America has been pledged to that principle and the people of America are in favor of its application to Ireland and they will see to it that they are not cheated out of the just result of their victory by the Tories of the world.

same basis. We are large purchasers of all the different lines of goods which enables us to quote you the very lowest prices and to provide the very best quality. At the present time fresh beef is selling at lower prices than almost any other article when enters into the cost of living.
While other goods are selling at high prices, beef is selling almost on the same basis as before the war. A comparison of our prices will convince you of the truth of this statement. These prices are almost as low as the prices in 1911, and lower than any opposition. We are selling large quantities of butter, eggs, lard and cheese. We are able to buy these goods in large quantities and are in turn able to quote very low prices. The very best quality of fresh, smoked and salt meats, sausages and other meat products are handled. A large variety is always in

NEWS OF THE DAY AT MT. PLEASANT BRIEFLY RELATED

Ernie Dullinger, 3 Years Old, Suffers Broken Arm
In Fall Down Steps.

ALLOWEEN TIME IS PLANNED

The Department Takes Hold and Will Try to Bring Celebration Up to Pre-War Standard; Fire Whistle to Be Placed on Water Plant; Notes.

Special to The Courier
MT. PLEASANT, Oct. 8.—The municipal band gave a concert in the park last evening under the direction of O. D. Zuck which was very much enjoyed by the public. The soloist Clyde Caltrane was a feature.

Her Arm Broken.
Ernie Dullinger, while playing at the home of Rev. R. S. Scott, fell down the cellar steps and fractured his left arm. She was taken to the Memorial hospital where Dr. G. F. McNish set the arm. She is the three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Dullinger.

Plan Halloween Celebration.
The fire department held a special meeting last evening and decided that it would hold a Halloween celebration in Mt. Pleasant on Thursday evening, October 30. Committees were appointed and will start work today and every indication is that Mt. Pleasant will have one of its roughest and wildest Halloween celebrations. Good prizes will be offered for those taking part in the parade.

Change Fire Whistle.
A regular monthly meeting of council was held on Monday evening. All bills were ordered paid. S. C. Stevenson made a report for the Finance committee. The fire whistle was ordered taken down off the brewery and placed in the pumping station of the Mt. Pleasant Water company.

The Board of Health was granted $350 the balance of its money for the year. Mr. Baughman was allowed to go ahead with the completion of his porch on Main street.

Young People's Meeting.
Thy young people of the eighth district, Westmoreland county, Sunday school association held a meeting in the United Brethren church on Sunday afternoon. The following program was carried out: Song service, invocation, son, The Girl and Her Teacher, Miss Jean Marsh, duet, Miss Sarah Horner and Leon, Jorev, echoes, from the county convention, Prof. Robert C. Shaw, violin solo, Miss Marion Fields, girls, Lake Geneva conference, Miss Margaret Armstrong, boy's conference, Ralph Stoner, song and benediction.

419 EGGS FROM 20 HENS IN 30 DAYS

Mr. Dougherty Got This Result in October—Plan Is Easily Tried

I tried Don Sung and the result is far beyond my expectations. I got 419 eggs in 30 days from 20 hens while in using. I think this is wonderful as they hardly laid at all before while in using. —Frank Dougherty, 6340 E. 11th St., Indianapolis.

Mr. Dougherty bought $1 worth of Don Sung tablets in October and wrote the above letter in November. Figure it's profit on 30 dozen eggs from hens that formerly laid little or nothing. This man found too good to be true but it costs nothing to find out. We'll make you the same offer. We made him. Give your hens Don Sung and watch results for one month. If you don't find that it pays for itself and pays you good profit besides, simply tell us and your money will be promptly refunded.

Don Sung (Chinese for egg laying) works directly in the egg laying process and is also a splendid tonic. It is easily given in the feed improves the hen's health, makes her stronger and more active in any weather and starts her laying.

Try Don Sung for 30 days and if it doesn't get you the eggs no matter how cold or wet the weather, your money will be refunded by return mail. Get Don Sung from your druggist or poultry remedy dealer or send 50 cents for a package by mail prepaid. Burrell-Dugger Co., 320 Columbia Bldg., Indianapolis, Ind.—Adv.

THE SOISSON.

THE HOUSE OF INTRIGUE—A mystery drama, is the attraction for Wednesday and Thursday with Peggy May as the support with a strong cast. The story is a thrilling one. A thousand dollars for just a few hours' work! Even in these days that sounds like a neat sum for a young girl to earn that is, a girl who is not a motion picture star or an accomplished pickpocket. To Barbara Prellow, actress with nothing to act such a compensation for an afternoon's work in impersonating a society heiress sounded too good to be true. Barbara didn't know just how to take it. She was dead broke couldn't get a job her landlady held her trunk for overdue rent, and she was driven to desperation when this queer old man sidled up to her, on the park bench and made the offer to pay the girl a thousand dollars to do a little private impersonating act. Did she go after the thousand? She certainly did. Did she go through with the game? Only a certain distance then she threw a monkey wrench into the whole scheme. There were some things she simply couldn't do and one of these was to sign away the millions of another girl even if she had to starve. What was the mysterious scheme the old man had framed up? Why did he threaten to kill her if she didn't commit forgery?

The explanation of the mysterious frame up is the big surprise.

THE PARAMOUNT.

OVER THE GARDEN WALL—The fact that clothes don't make the man a fact which has been tried and tested and proven a million times, provides story elements of a refreshingly new kind in Vitaphone's latest Basile Love picture. The picture is an adaptation by Sam Taylor of a story by Wilhelmina Evison. It was directed by David Smith.

Over the Garden Wall is in brief the story of how different types of men appraise different types of women to ascertain where their love shall be bestowed. There appear on the screen several sorts of suitors.

One is a capable young attorney matched with a Dresden china doll of a girl. Another is a top who wears fine clothes. A third is a wealthy young man who has a habit of getting his clothes soiled working with his machine. A fourth is a wealthy clubman the wearer of fine clothes and possessor of the sole desire to gratify his own whims.

Miss Love cast as Peggy Gordon, an energetic young woman with ideas of her own on all subjects finds much to dislike in the well garbed person of the top to whom she has become almost unconsciously engaged to wed.

She finds on the other hand, a whole lot of likeable traits about the chap she one day encounters changing a tire on his machine. Justice seems to be guiding her girl along the lines of philosophy that clothes don't make the man.

Railroad Shop Man Tells How Nervous Overcome Lad's Extreme Nervousness.

Mr. Ryder's extraordinary signed statement, is too valuable to pass by. My son when he was three years old began to have nervous convulsions attended with a high fever and making it necessary to call a physician. After these spells he was so nervous he could hardly talk and could not rest at night. At first he would have one of these spells every two or three months. Finally they increased to two a month.

In February, 1918 I saw Nerv-Worth advertised and decided to try it. It is nine months since he began taking it. He is now six years old is getting in better condition every way and I feel confident Nerv-Worth is going to cure him.

"Nuxated Iron Put Added Power Behind My Punch"

Says Jack Dempsey—Tiger Of The Ring
Heavyweight Champion of the World Tells A Secret of the Training Which Helped Get Him Into Such Superb Condition That He Was Able to Whip the Mighty Jess Willard and Prove Himself

Jack Kearns, Manager for Dempsey, Jimmy DeForest, Chief Trainer, and Others Give

Opinions—How Nuxated Iron Helps Strengthen the Nervous System, Restore Wasted Tissues, and Build RED BLOOD, STRENGTH and ENDURANCE.

Since his overwhelming victory at Toledo when he wrested the World's Championship title from the Goliath like Jess Willard, Jack Dempsey, the modern David and Goliath of the Ring, has been the subject of many inquiries as to the methods employed in his training which produced such marvellous physical development as to make him a veritable human dynamo should prove conclusively the paramount value he has attached to this master strength and blood builder and explains below why he now recommends it to others.

Just as when a man's life is at stake, physical strength is the only thing that counts, so when the champion is in the ring, it is the only thing that counts.

In connection with this feature of his training regarding which Dempsey himself makes a statement below, Jimmy DeForest, the Champion's Chief Trainer, is quoted as saying: "For seven weeks previous to July 4 I was in sole charge of the training and preparation of Jack Dempsey for his fight with Jess Willard. During the training period of Dempsey was regularly given by me Nuxated Iron and I believe it contributed to his success."

The importance that the Champion himself places upon the part Nuxated Iron played in winning for him the highest laurels known in the athletic world is clearly shown in the following statement made by Jack Dempsey: "I am in a position to strongly recommend Nuxated Iron to every man and woman who wants to build greater strength, energy and power. In connection with the foregoing state I believe that Nuxated Iron is the best thing I have ever used. I have found it to be a most valuable asset in my training. It has helped me to keep the body fit, and I am firmly convinced that it has helped me to increase my stamina and endurance. Nuxated Iron put added power behind my punch and helped me to accomplish what I did at Toledo. From the results in my own case, where the possession of super endurance is necessary, I feel that I am in a position to strongly recommend Nuxated Iron to every man and woman who wants to build greater strength, energy and power."

Jimmy DeForest, the Champion's Chief Trainer, tells here why he believes the use of Nuxated Iron by Dempsey contributed to his success.

every training person that if a man is physically fit as Dempsey, should consider it his duty to take Nuxated Iron. There is no lack of iron in the blood. To make more iron, however, is the key to the secret of the average man or woman to see that there is nothing in my experience which I have found so valuable as organic iron—Nuxated Iron.

U. P. CHURCH WILL START A DRIVE FOR 100,000 MEMBERS

Special sermons will be preached in every congregation of the United Presbyterian church October 12 and October 26 in an effort to enroll 100,000 members as comrades in the "Intercession." On October 12 prayer meetings will be held simultaneously all over America for the enlistment of additional members.

The great drive for a praying brotherhood in the church is similar to the movement being conducted in practically every other evangelical church. Millions will be enrolled as intercessors say church leaders when the various campaigns such as the New World movement in the United States.

Pledges of membership in the brotherhood are pouring in by the hundred to Dr. J. Knox Montgomery who left the presidency of Muskingum college to assume direction of the department of spiritual life in the New World movement with headquarters in Pittsburgh.

Virtually every minister in the United Presbyterian church will be enrolled by the middle of October and the pledges of thousands of other members of the church already have been received.

SOX WIN OUT IN 10TH INNING BY SCORE OF 5 TO 4

Contest Replete With Thrills, Heartbreaks, Mighty Clouts and Mad Catchés.

REDS SEEM SURE WINNERS

Score Four Runs in Third and Fourth Rounds but Chicago Ties It Up in the Sixth; Buck Weaver Crossed the Pan in 10th With Winning Tally.

By Associated Press.
CINCINNATI, Oct. 7.—The person who was directed yesterday to shine up the pole at Redland park and measure it for the world's championship hitting slid down the shaft a bit today and the measuring was postponed. The reason was that, as the Chicago White Sox did not dare lose today's game for with it would have gone the championship, they overcame a lead of four runs and by delivering one more tally in the tenth round won the game, 5-4.

It was a contest replete with thrills and heart-breaks, varied by some wild fielding, mighty clouts, mad catches and, in short, practically everything in baseball.

Cincinnati looked like a sure winner in the third and fourth rounds, in the course of which four Redlegs crossed the plate. In the fifth, however, the Sox turned two passes and a hit into a tally and in the sixth two singles and two doubles were the major factors which tied the score.

To Buck Weaver, starting third baseman, who wielded a mighty stick in the game, fell the distinction of recording the winning run in the tenth. He was the first man up and doubled to center, his second two-sacker of the game. The partisan crowd became hushed and then began to chat encouragement to Ring, who had replaced Ruether for the Reds.

Jackson tried to bunt and missed, but on a second attempt the ball dribbled a few feet down the third base line and, while the ball was perfectly fielded, Jackson crossed the initial sack with luck to spare. Weaver landed on third. "Scrappy" Felsch, who had delivered a double in the sixth, struck out, but Gandil, who had previously delivered nothing, singled and Weaver scored.

In their half of the tenth the Reds went out in order and the day closed with the series standing four victories for Cincinnati and two for Chicago.

The Cincinnati team entered the field confident that they had so drugged the visitors that the last ounce of fight had been separated from them. The latter, however, had been hauled over the coals in unmistakable fashion by Manager Gleason during the forenoon and they came out to the field looking "desperate" rather than "hopeful."

"Dutch" Ruether, who became a local idol by his great pitching and perfect batting in the first game of the series, was trotted out to deliver the coup de grace to the American leaguers. The crowd gave him a rousing welcome, but although he held his adversaries hitless during the first three innings, experts noted that the Sox were slugging them savagely into the outfield or sizzling them down the foul line in a way that was not present in the first game. There were none out in the sixth when Manager Moran more in sorrow than anger, beckoned him to the bench and Jim Ring was called on to save the day. He was wild but effective until the 10th, and was aided by some sparkling fielding.

Dick Kerr, who pitched Chicago's only previous victory, a 2-0 shutout at Chicago, was again called upon by Manager Gleason and although 11 hits were registered against him, he was steady in the pinches and kept them well scattered save for his two bad innings.

Schalk was back in the batter's box and J. Collins started in right field for the Sox, but was displaced in the seventh by Liebold as Ring, a right-hander, was pitched.

In the third the scoring began. Rath was retired, E. Collins to Gandil. Daubert singled to right. He stole second. Groh fanned. Roush was hit by a pitched ball. There were now two on bases and the crowd began yelling for a run. Duncan responded with a terrific double between J. Collins and Felsch, which scored Daubert and Roush and a tumult in the stands. Kerr looked worried, but the strain on him was relieved by Kopf, who sent an easy one to Felsch in center.

One isolated and useless single marked the Sox half of the fourth. In their half the Reds accumulated two more, sent one to right which took an eccentric bound and J. Collins, out across the field after it and it rolled on for a triple. Rarden was out. E. Collins to Gandil. Neale being down easily at third. Ruether then measured up to the crowd's expectations by doubling, sending Neale across the plate. Rath hit to Risberg, who attempted to catch Ruether going to third, but the pellet caught the runner in the back and rolled to the stands. Weaver was unable to persuade the umpire that Ruether deliberately interfered his shoulder to deflect the ball. A moment later Rath, taking advantage of the momentary demoralization of the Sox, stole third. Joe Jackson ended the trouble for his teammates by a brilliant running catch of Daubert's short fly and a throw to Schalk which killed Rath, who was attempting to score on the out.

Chicago's first evidence of a return to form came in the fifth. Ruether was unsteady and walked Risberg and Schalk. Kerr beat out a hit to short, hitting E. Collins. J. Collins lined one to Roush, but the ball was so close in that Risberg made no attempt to score. E. Collins, however, came to the rescue with a long fly to Roush, on which the Sox shortstop scored. At this point a series-comic bit of base running was produced. Roush threw to third ahead of Schalk, who, however, managed to scurry back to second and seemed not to comprehend what was happening when Schalk came teasing back. He stood still while Groh, shouting madly to some one to take his throw, finally ran up to the unprotesting Kerr and tagged him for the third out.

In the Red half of the fifth, with two down, Duncan reached third when Felsch dropped his long drive but he died there, as Kopf was interred, Risberg to Gandil.

In the sixth the Sox did their first clean consecutive hitting of the series. Weaver poled a short double just where there was no one to reach it and dashed across the plate a moment later on Jackson's single. Felsch, who already had a single to his credit, doubled scoring Jackson. Manager Moran, who had been standing uneasily on the sidelines, at this moment relieved Ruether. Ring was sent in. Gandil popped to Daubert and Risberg grounded out, Kopf to Daubert, but Felsch reached third. Schalk then singled past Groh and sent Felsch home with the tying run. Schalk stole second but Kerr was thrown out at first.

In the 10th Weaver doubled and Jackson singled sending Weaver to third, and the handful of Chicago rooters put up a shout. Gandil responded with a single to center which sent Weaver home with what proved to be the winning run. Jackson took second on the play. Risberg lined to Kopf and Jackson was doubled at second.

The last effort of the Redlegs was brief and ineffectual. Roush went out, Collins to Gandil. Duncan fouled out to Schalk and Kopf was easy by the Collins-Gandil route.

INJECTED PEPPER INTO SOX

Scrappy Little Manager of Chicago Team Has Way of His Own in Handling Players.

Kid Gleason, hard-fisted little manager of the White Sox, has injected new life and pep into the South Siders. The peppery Kid has a way about him that is distinctly his own when it comes to handling men—a way that win the respect and confidence of every member of his aggregation from the greenest recruit to the oldest regular.

The White Sox, as Gleason took hold of them prior to the opening of the 1919 season, were a doubtful looking combination. Fans and critics who were on the inside of affairs as they pertained to the Sox entertained well-grounded hunches that they were divided against themselves.

Fact is, there was at one time not long ago two factions in the Sox camp. The wiseacres whispered that these factions were the Rowland and Collins factions, and the Sox machine failed to hit on all six cylinders as a result.

Zelder Coming Back.

Rollie Zelder, after quitting the Toledo team as manager, has been playing ball with an independent team in LaPorte, Ind. He is quoted as saying that he expects to be back in big league ball next year.

ARMY DISCIPLINE HAS MADE RUETHER ONE OF MOST FEARED HURLERS IN BIG LEAGUES

Here is One of the Peculiar Tricks of Photography. The Hand Being Near-est the Camera's "Eye" Makes Ruether's Pitching Hand Look Twice Too Large for His Body.

Captain Cook, athletic director for Camp Lewis, believes that the discipline Walter "Dutch" Ruether, Cincinnati pitcher, received in the army helped make him one of the most feared hurlers in the big leagues.

Cured of Irritation.

The captain told how Ruether was cured of one cause of irritation. It was at the service game last year and Del Baker, now with the Portland Coast league, had been thrown out of the contest. This made Ruether angry and he refused to pitch. Captain Slim Scott tried to get him to continue, but he would not.

"I won't pitch another ball; Baker did not get a square deal," he said. Captain Cook pleaded with him after Scott had failed. Ruether was obdurate.

"I'll not pitch," was the stubborn declaration. It finally got on Captain Cook's nerves.

Ruether Finished Game.

"Private Ruether," he snapped. The left-handed pitcher came to attention automatically.

"Private Ruether," said Cook, "you have just thirty seconds to get out in the box and pitch or go back to Camp Lewis under guard, and you won't go on that California trip, either."

"Yes, sir," saluted Ruether. He finished the game so angry that the ball came over looking like a pea. But he finished it just the same.

ting. Wilhoit ended a long battling streak in which he set a new world's record by hitting safely in 59 consecutive games. In addition to a cash payment, Mouser, a pitcher, goes to the Wichita club for the remainder of the Western league season.

NO ASSISTS MADE IN GAME

Novel Record Made by Birmingham in Recent Contest With Nashville in Southern League.

Birmingham established what is believed to be a league record in the game with Nashville, recently, when they retired the visitors through the entire nine innings without an infielder or an outfielder having an assist. Five assists are credited to the Barons, all of them made by Slapnick.

GOOD AT CATCHING RUNNERS

Few Pitchers Can Equal Sherrod Smith of Brooklyn in Nipping Players Off First.

When it comes to catching runners slipping off first few can equal Sherrod Smith, the Brooklyn part-time pitcher. This, in fact, is a specialty with Smith. Rube Marquard also is oner in this line matter. Fred Toney is another who can hold runners close to the base.

ANOTHER SHIFT FOR BAIRD

Started With St. Louis Cardinals, Traded to Phillies, Now With Brooklyn Team.

Douglas Baird has been shifted about considerably in the National league this year. He started with the Cardinals and was traded to the Phillies. He returned to the Cardinals and recently was acquired by the Dodgers for the waiver price.

Chicago After Olympic Games.

Chicago will try to secure the 1924 Olympic games.

Jewelry Loot Filled Bucket

Two bandits, one a cripple, held up Louis Trocky in his jewelry store in Chicago, hoarded and gagged him, and in view of scores of pedestrians escaped with an iron bucket filled with diamonds and watches valued at $5,000 and $100 in currency. They came and went in an automobile.

Big Lot of Hay Fever Jokes

But Kentucky Men Say—"People Who Belong to Hay Fever Colony are Kidding Themselves."

Wouldn't Be Any Rose or Hay Fever if Simple Home Remedy Was Given a Chance.

"Yes, there's a real NINETY-NINE per cent effective remedy for hay or rose fever," frankly states a druggist in a prosperous Kentucky city. "But I don't expect anyone to believe me because the treatment is so easy and the cost not worth mentioning."

"The annual crop of hay-fever jokes would be mighty scarce if people would get an ounce of Mentholized Arvic and by just adding water that has been boiled make a pint of liquid that will prove a real help to all who suffer."

"Many of my hay-fever friends tell me that by starting to gargle and sniff or spray the nostrils a few times a day the expected severe attack often fails to appear and in cases where it does show up, is very mild and does not annoy."

"The Better Class of Pharmacists" who dispense Mentholized Arvic say it will greatly modify any attack even when taken three or four days after hostilities begin.

Manager Rowland of Milwaukee, Experiences Trouble in Getting Players Through Gate.

Manager Clarence Rowland.

In baseball, Clarence, accompanied by five of his ball players, tried to get through the pass gate in the Indianapolis park. The guardian of the gate, who is a faithful watchdog, according to McGill, stopped Rowland with the question:

"How many are you trying to bring in here?"

"Five, count them," answered Rowland.

"Well, one bat boy is all you need," was the answer.

Rowland had to summon help to get his ball club inside the park. They looked like candidates for the bat boy's job to the trusty gatekeeper.

DON'T LET THE "FLU" GET YOU THIS FALL

You Can Almost Surely Avoid That Dread Disease By Taking Chasco-Vin, a Most Palatable Body-Building Tonic.

The terrible harvest reaped by the "flu" a year ago will last long in our memory. No one would have it repeated at any cost, hence all should take every precaution in time.

During the last epidemic thousands were safeguarded by taking Chasco-Vin, a body-building tonic that does build.

It is the toning up of the system that counts in keeping the "flu" away. Those who are weak, nervous and run-down specially need Chasco-Vin.

In conjunction with Chasco-Vin we advise using a good antiseptic solution for the throat and nose and also that the bowels be kept regular.

Chasco-Vin is sold in Connelville by C. Roy Hetzel, Woolworth Building, and Clark's, 323 N. Pittsburg Street, ONLY.

DIAMOND CUT DIAMOND

Copyright—The Robt. Harris Co.

Now, under ordinary circumstances finding the three slippers in my wardrobe wouldn't have upset me—I should very likely have thought it a lapse of memory and let it go at that, but I was by way of keeping tabs on them and I knew I couldn't have put them in the wardrobe because the last thing I knew of them were gone out of the flat entirely. I could only stare and feel horribly creepy.

If this were not a manifestation, then somebody had access to my flat. But who? And why slippers? I jumped up at this thought and began digging into my bureau drawer—I had five hundred dollars cash buried there that had been paid over to me in the settlement of an estate and I'd not had a minute to take it to the bank.

The cash was safe. Everything else was safe as far as I could see, not a chair was out of place, nothing had been moved or touched since I left the flat—only three slippers. And why slippers? The more I thought the more disturbed I became. It was all so uncanny. One thing was clear to me, though—wherever came in to monkey with the slippers came while I was out.

"I'll get a new lock as my next move in the game," said I, and this I prepared to do immediately not by going out and leaving the diamonds—oh, no—I was too really scared by the slippers to leave the diamonds now alone in the flat—but by finding a lock smith in the telephone book and hitting him to call, and I was diligently pursuing him thus when my telephone rang and I threw down the book to answer it. And in response to my "hello" I recognized the voice of Monsieur de Ravenel.

"Why how do you do, monsieur?" I exclaimed, thinking instantly he had some scheme on for getting me to take charge of Clair for him since Mrs. Delario wouldn't keep her.

"I am as always sunk you but it is one friend Madame Delario I wish to speak with you about."

"Mrs. Delario," I cried thrown off my guard by this unexpected name. "What about her?"

"She meets with an accident and wishes to see you immediately."

"An accident?" I was dismayed and thought, "Poor woman what next for her?" but I called back "What sort of an accident?" and before he could tell me I added "When did it happen?"

"My daughter and I are just now calling on her to pay our respects and Madame faints. And falls striking severely her head. I call at once to a physician and he says there may be necessary an operation. She refuses—until she can speak with you about some private matters. I shall tell her you will come."

For a moment I wondered if she had given him a hint of the private matters and I asked him point blank, "Do you know what she wishes to see me for?"

"She asks only that I send for you immediately, and I obey her instructions. I tell you only what she doctor has told me—and ask me to send for her best friend. She says it is your self and she must see you. You will come immediately?"

"Yes—immediately. I'll be there in about twenty minutes."

I rushed to her buttoning my coat as I ran downstairs and it was not until I had taken my seat in the subway that I remembered I had left her diamonds in my flat.

CHAPTER VI.

Monsieur Drops His Mask
The wild-eyed Swedish maid let me in. The seance room door opened and

The Wild-Eyed Swedish Maid Let Me In.

Monsieur de Ravenel stepped out and came to greet me. Monsieur advanced with outstretched hand but no smile. We spoke in whispers.

"Where is she?" He pointed up to indicate her bedroom and whispered, "I must speak with you before we see her" and moved out of the vestibule, motioning me to follow.

I took two steps and stopped. "Zis way, if you please," said he, pointing to the seance room.

I took two more steps and stopped again in front of the reception room door. I had the strongest feeling come over me that I didn't want to go into the seance room with him—that I simply could not go—that my feet refused to budge another inch in that direction.

As I hesitated—for there was such a ratty look in his face that he repelled me—he added "Pardon, madame, but I have for the present no responsibility. It was merely that I wish beforehand to acquaint Madame with the nature of the disaster that have overtaken her friend zat I ask for some words in private." He made a gesture toward the basement stairs, and dropping his voice finished "One never knows but as most trusted servants in one's employ are spies."

Thinking of the wild-eyed one I smiled. He shrugged "Madame, we are waiting precious time zat may mean everything to Madame Delario. Permit me to beg of you—"

And I followed him at once to the seance room, the door of which he pushed open standing aside and saying in French "Permettez moi."

"Apres vous, madame," to let me enter ahead of him.

To my surprise the room was brilliantly lighted with all the electric bulbs in full bloom and I turned just in time to see him lock the door on us and pocket the key.

He did it so swiftly so silently that under ordinary circumstances I shouldn't have known I was locked in with him. I believe now that the brilliant light into which he thrust me out of the dim hall was especially designed to confuse me should I turn on him sooner than he had calculated I would. But the very instant I crossed the threshold I knew he was going to lock the door, and I wheeled—just one second too soon. Had I taken four more steps into the room I should have been none the wiser about the key—the time came.

But having caught him in the act I let him know it.

"What monsieur?" I demanded haughtily, "is the object of that precaution, may I ask?"

"It was necessary," he returned coming toward me and searching my face with his heavy eyes.

Neither of us spoke for several seconds. Where was Mrs. Delario and had anything really happened to her? Was this merely a precaution on his part against spies, or did he mean me some harm? Well, if he did I had a couple of good stout knapsacks within call.

"Monsieur, you will kindly unlock that door immediately."

"In one moment—when I have said what I have to say," he replied in a smooth attempt to keep up appearances. "I have something of importance to ask Madame."

"And I have nothing to say to monsieur—behind locked doors." I interrupted angrily. "If monsieur is a gentleman he will instantly unlock that door."

He took a step nearer, as if to show me he had no intention of taking orders from me. He opened the door when he got ready to.

I thought he meant to lay hands on me. I whipped out my knapsack and confronted him my eyes blazing and my teeth set so hard I heard them grit.

My act brought him to his senses and he began to apologize—said he was sorry he had "alarmed" me—that on his word of honor he meant me no harm whatever—a whole lot of palaver like that, designed to get the bargain where it came from and me into an amiable frame of mind and once more at his mercy.

I listened to the palaver coolly—with the knapsack in my hand I felt perfectly safe and I didn't put it back. I hardly thought he was armed himself, or he'd have drawn when I did and the knapsack in my firm clutch gave me a sense of immense advantage in dialogue.

I actually in a minute or two, had several thrills of joy. I had more thrills when he said, "I implore madame to consider ze position she puts me in—a gentleman—by standing there with a weapon in her hand."

His face darkened. The black shadow under the roses.

"Is Madame intending to converse received speaking of the very definite benefits derived from the use of Plant Juice. Following is the voluntary statement of Mrs. Mary Rice who resides at No. 512 General Robinson street North Side and who has lived in the same house for 13 years and was born and raised on the North Side. She stated:

I had stomach trouble for some time was very nervous and restless and could not sleep at night. At one time I had no sleep for a month. I became very thin and in fact was a physical wreck. I had tried various remedies but nothing seemed to help me. I heard of Plant Juice and the wonderful results which were being obtained from its use and decided to try same. I have used it more or less for the last year and it has cured me. I have regained my former weight sleep well at night, my nerves are in good condition and my stomach is all right. I can now digest my food and do not experience that dis-revered and bloated feeling that I did prior to taking your remedy. I would strongly advise all who are suffering to take Plant Juice.

was holding a weapon in her hand?

"Is monsieur intending to converse with me behind locked doors?"

"Very well, then get it over. What is it?" I felt very sure by this time it had nothing directly, to do with Mrs. Delario.

"It is zis—my daughter, Claire, was robbed of some very valuable jewels on ze steamer coming over. Zere are but two persons who could possibly have committed ze theft—Mrs. Delario and—yourself."

I was dazed—so dazed that I stammered.

"You say Claire was robbed coming over on the steamer—and you think I did it?"

"Precisely."

My wits came back with that flat accusation.

"Then why didn't she say something about it at the time?" I demanded.

"Probably because she was not aware of it at ze time—one seldom is if I may be permitted to point it out to Madame."

I was so completely innocent of even knowing that the girl had jewels with her—except such little trinkets as a child values and that nobody but a street thief would have bothered his head over—that I saw monsieur's accusation as blackmail. That word suddenly popped into my head and gave me the basis of a return attack.

"You mean to tell me that Claire had valuable jewels on the steamer yet never mentioned the fact to either Mrs. Delario or myself?"

Naturally she says nothing—why should she? She is under no obligation to speak of such a matter to you. In other words, she was smuggling valuable jewels into the country—trying to get them through the customs house without our knowing it, so we could tell her to declare them?

Smuggling? She is taking care to her money—why have once been purchased in America?

I don't believe she had any jewels. I ascertained merely to say she had—and she hasn't got them now—doesn't prove anything. You must have sense enough to see that for yourself.

His face had darkened again. "You doubt my word? I have ze proof, Madame. ze absolute proof—zat she had ze jewels w's her when she went on board ze steamer, and while on board, and up to a certain date, I can furnish proof zat would be accept in any court—if Madame renders it necessary."

His tone carried conviction in spite of myself, also I knew he was ready to have me put under arrest and furnish his proof in court. For a minute I went limp and sick. But I pulled myself together for another shot at him—"Then you admit she was smuggling jewels into the country?"

He shrugged—I thought to conceal his uneasiness at the way I was taking it. "Ze jewels belong to my wife—a wedding gift from her father—if you call it smuggling."

"But they were not declared—I know that anyway. Well then—since they were not declared they were to all intents and purposes smuggled. We shall now act as though they had been smuggled—and shall at once enlist the services of the government in your behalf. After the jewels are discovered you can present evidence that they were not subject to duty. Or of course you can pay the duty. I suppose it is worth that to you to get them back?"

What do you mean, Madame? he exclaimed in a tone that to me sounded alarm. "You slink I ask your government to seek for zere lost jewels of my daughter? Diable—pardon—and lose zem so soon as I find zem?"

"Not you, but I—I will ask the customs house officials to take up the case."

"You? You? Madame, of what are you thinking?"

"I—yes certainly. I replied firmly following up my advantage for he had given it away to me that he didn't wish the customs house to know this little smuggling of Claire's."

You have seen fit to accuse me, a robbery I know nothing about. I shall—I must—do all I can to help Claire get her jewels back in order to prove my own innocence. I will go to the customs house and report the whole matter tomorrow morning."

You will do nothing of ze sort! He fairly hissed the words at me. "You will tell nobody zat ze jewels have been stolen—nobody. And you will give me your promise before you leave zis room."

He turned scarlet and then deathly white but he got control of himself immediately.

So that was the way the wind blew! My shot had carried home—I felt I had him. I gave him another dose of the same ammunition—"If certainly shall—there's nothing else to do. Now, then what were the jewels Claire was smuggling in?"

He kept back a retort by biting his lip and glared at me.

"What were the jewels?" I repeated. "You must at least tell me that—since you accuse me of taking them. What were they? I know absolutely nothing about them. You may believe me or not as you choose but it's your own loss if you don't."

My words seemed to shake his conviction for a moment—but only for a moment, what he said next left me no

Asthma Is Dangerous

Folly to Disregard Its Warning

Asthma is not only a disagreeable affliction but a dangerous one. The constant difficult breathing, the choked up air passages, the struggle for air, the loss of rest, combine to form a great strain on the nervous system and heart—often too great a strain to stand.

It is the worst of folly to neglect such a condition or to continually treat with ordinary narcotic medicines, drugs, inhalers, smokes or douches, which merely give temporary relief from the choking paroxysms and do not relieve or correct the real cause of it. I could instead get from A. A. Clarke or any druggist a small bottle of Oxidase (essential oil) tablets and take one or two intervals whenever distress is felt and one is going to bed. Instant relief is usually felt and in addition the effect of consistent treatment is to gradually bring about a greatly improved health condition as the symptoms of asthma disappear forever.

Dr. Worcester, Mass. physician and his treatment of asthma even in the very worst forms has probably never been exceeded.

doubt as to the gravity of my situation in the matter.

"And now Madame we lay all subtleties and evasions to ze side. Zere are but two persons who could have ze jewels of my daughter—yourself and Madame Delario. I have already questioned her fully—to be quite frank—I have searched ze house—wis her permits sion I have also searched her person by means of a woman detective—and she has convinced me zat she has not ze jewels of my daughter."

Neither have I. I snapped. He went on as if I hadn't spoken. My evidence is positive, and with Madame Delario's denial of all knowledge—her wish zat I send for you and give you ze opportunity to explain—

"Where is Mrs. Delario—let me see her immediately?" I broke in. "Do you mean to say she accuses me of robbing your child?"

"I do not say she precisely accuses—but she has seen you—and Claire has seen you—zis ze package containing ze jewels in your hand."

I burst out loudly. That's a lie—every word of it! I never touched her jewelry—or the package containing her jewelry. Never!

He flushed a deep red at the insult—but he was making every effort to control himself—seeing how enraged I was he probably thought I'd use my knapsack on him next—and I whipped him on feeling that I had the upper hand.

DON'T get the impression that all Ginger Ale is "just Ginger Ale." We suggest that you try one bottle of CLOVERDALE—then you'll realize that there is a big difference in its favor and in its flavor.

There are several reasons for the superior quality of

Cloverdale GINGER ALE

beside the fact that

"It Doesn't Bite"

First, the water comes clear, pure and sparkling from the celebrated CLOVERDALE Springs at Newville, Pa. Then, the "ginger" is truly Jamaica Ginger (not cheap red pepper) and that's why "It Doesn't Bite." Lemon and the purest cane sugar syrup are also used because we are offering the best ginger ale, not the cheapest.

One cold drink will quench that thirst—then send home a case for the family. Many people are finding it beneficial to drink a bottle every day—as a tonic.

Countess Colored-Mannfield, formerly the beautiful Nora Isella of New York, before she married into Teuton royalty, is now one of the number of American heiresses who are living on borrowed money or on sums ridiculously small compared with their former grandeur. Contributors to Success in Dress

Some clever and charming women, experienced globe trotters among them, insist that no one needs more than two suits, a good-looking frock or two, a separate skirt and a small collection of blouses to dress well enough for almost any occasion. They confide that successful dressing, with a meager outfit, depends upon choosing clothes very carefully to start with and on the possession of smart accessories of dress, more than anything else. A plain, beautifully fitted and fashionably tailored street suit may be inconspicuous, but it becomes a background for small and exquisite accessories that lift the costume up to the plane of distinction. Odd vests, collars and cuffs of lace, chic shoes and bags, just the right collar or fur neck piece and, most important of all, a hat that has the cachet of unusual style, lend a new air to what might be commonplace without them.

In the accompanying picture a collar and vest combination, with a shopping bag of ribbon and a hat to match the bag, challenge any suit to remain unnoticed in their company. The collar and vest are made of embroidered net in a lace edging, bordered with narrow, fine Val lace. Plain net is used as a foundation for this piece. Accessories of this kind make gifts that are sure of enthusiastic appreciation from one's friends. These, and collar and cuff sets, made of durable faces, like elany, Irish crochet and filat, are not to be omitted when one is reckoning with a satisfactory outfit in mind.

The pretty shopping bag is one of those which entice us to linger at the ribbon counter. It is made of narrow, heavy satin ribbon in two shades sewed together in strips that alternate the colors. It is lined with plain satin and sewed to a metal mounting with handles made of the ribbon. The rows of ribbon are stitched together with corded edges overlapping, and the bag is bound with the darker shade. In the domain of rich autumnal colors there are deep purplish reds and glowing mustard shades that will make wonderful bags of this kind. The hat to match has a brim and top crown of georgette crepe and the side crown banded by two collars made of satin ribbon like that in the bag.

ROOSEVELT ASSOCIATION PLANS TO ESTABLISH AND SUPPORT SEVERAL MEMORIALS

Today at the William Penn hotel in Pittsburgh a meeting is being held by prominent men from 20 counties of Western Pennsylvania who are interested in the movement of the Roosevelt Memorial Association, and are attending this meeting to discuss plans which have been formulated for the campaign.

The association which was formed several months ago by a large number of the ardent admirers of the late Theodore Roosevelt plans to erect and maintain several memorials in his honor. One of these memorials will naturally be at Oyster Bay, New York, where the late ex-president had his home for a number of years.

A dignified open air theatre to be built along the lines of a Greek amphitheatre and utilized as a non-partisan meeting place by patriotic Americans is one of the features of the proposed park at Oyster Bay. The plans have already been approved by the Roosevelt Memorial Association.

The association feels no more memorials than has been suggested would be more than the conversion of the 40 acres of naturally beautiful land that Roosevelt not long ago set his heart upon and which is especially fitting for a memorial to Roosevelt as a man, and as a lover of nature, and as the scene of his ideally happy home life at Oyster Bay, says Colonel William Boyce Thompson, president of the Roosevelt Memorial Association.

With his passing a wider significance to this cherished aim of his creation of a park, will give his fellow citizens a place for rest and recreation to mind and body. The exclusion of his home with its fields and woodlands, its furnishings, its libraries, trophies and gifts from all over the world will make it particularly a spot associated with his memory and a mecca for all Americans.

The Roosevelt Memorial Association has been forced to provide memorials in accordance with the plans of the national committee which will include the erection of a suitable memorial at Washington, the acquiring, developing and maintaining of the park at Oyster Bay which will ultimately include Sagamore Hill and which will be preserved like Mt. Vernon, and the Lincoln home at Springfield, and the establishment and endowment of an incorporated association to promote the development and application of the belle and ideal of Theodore Roosevelt for the benefit of the American people.

The association desires to raise by subscription the sum of $5,000,000 for a memorial fund to be used in carrying out this project. As Colonel Thompson pointed out, the plans are complete for the park but the association is proceeding very carefully before taking any definite action regarding the proposed monument at Washington and the carrying out of the Roosevelt ideas and ideals will take time and patience.

The national executive committee of the Roosevelt Memorial Association includes men and women of national reputation and associates of Roosevelt from all sections of the country and from all walks of life. Ex-President William Howard Taft and former governor of New York, Charles Evans Hughes head the list of honorary presidents. Two United States Senators are among the honorary vice presidents—Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts and Hiram W. Johnson of California. William Loebe, Jr., who was secretary to President Roosevelt during his two terms is acting vice president, and Albert H. Wiggin, chairman of the board of directors of the Chase National Bank of New York, is treasurer.

On the executive committee are Governors James P. Goodrich of Indiana and R. Livingston Beechman of Rhode Island, T. Coleman DuPont, George Harvey, editor of Hanes's Weekly, Will D. Hays of Indiana, Mrs. Medill McCormick, wife of United States Senator from Illinois, Gifford Pinchot, Elihu Root, Henry L. Stimson, Luke E. Wright and Major General Leonard Wood.

At the head of the organization in Western Pennsylvania is Thomas Patterson, a leading member of the Allegheny country bar and prominent in legal circles throughout the city and district. With Mr. Patterson are associated former Congressman James Francis Burke, Colonel Samuel H. Church and Frank F. Brooks, vice president of the First National Bank of Pittsburgh, R. R. Quay, Mayor E. V. Babcock, John H. Semple, George B. Flinn and Henry R. Rea.

These men have been actively engaged in the plans of the campaign for some time past and are lending all their efforts to a successful and fitting conclusion to the project of the association. Allied C. Estes of East Orange, N. J., who was a life long admirer and friend of the late Mr. Roosevelt, and established headquarters in the William Penn hotel from which he is directing the campaign in this district. Mr. Estes comes to the work with natural zeal and enthusiasm and his experience a dreadfully Liberty Loan campaign and war work drives through the east during the war make him particularly qualified for the work.

WHEN YOU WAKE UP DRINK GLASS OF HOT WATER

Wash Poisons and Poisons from System Before Putting Food Into Stomach.

Wash yourself on the inside before breakfast like you do on the outside. This is vastly more important because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing disease while the bowel pores do.

For every ounce of food taken into the stomach nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out of the body. If this waste is not eliminated day by day it quickly ferments and generates poisons, gases, and toxins which are absorbed or sucked into the blood stream through the lymph ducts which should check only nourishment.

A splendid health measure is to drink before breakfast each day a glass of hot water with a tea-spoonful of limestone phosphate in it which is a harmless way to wash these poisons from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the alimentary canal before eating your food.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs but very little at the drug store but is sufficient to make anyone an enthusiast on inside bathing—Ad.

$22.50, $29.75 and $39.75

AMONG the better coats in finer fabrics, richer linings and a wider range of cloths and colors are Broadcloths, Silvertop, Bolivia, Tinseltone and Heather Mixtures in Navy, Brown, Taupe, Plum, Burgundy and invisible checks with the new collars in plain and gathered effects. The sizes are 16 to 46, and the coats are priced at

$45.00, $55.00 and $65.00

EVENING, Crystal, Bolivia, Lucerne, Cascade, Suedine, Peachbloom, Marcella, Silvertone and Tinseltone are the richer fabrics which make the coats in the third price group so irresistibly appealing. They come in all the good shades of the season with but one of a kind. Some are semi-fitted models, some are loose backs and belted across the front and others are belted all around. Shawl collars of the material or deep collars of Hudson Seal, Nutria, Australian Opossum and Raccoon feature many of them, while the lining are of pussy willow taffeta and satin. These are priced from

$75.00 and $85.00 to $125.00

New Fur Hats

They're all the vogue now in New York—just the plain fur, Hudson Seal, Squirrel, Nutria or Mink, although the wearer desires a knot at the bright metallic ribbons or a rosette of pastel shaded flowers or possibly an intricate fancy will add the desired touch of color.

JUST A TOUCH OF FUR

Found on some of the hats made of Tapes, Tinseltone, Duvetyn or Panné, for in addition to Mink, Seal, which was shown earlier in the season, one finds now Seal and Mink growing in favor in the exclusive shops of Fifth Avenue. Miss RIDEWAY is just home from New York where she bought some attractive models in fur and fur trimmed hats, as well as a number of very beautiful pattern hats illustrating the newest in liberty trends.

Fur Fabric Coats

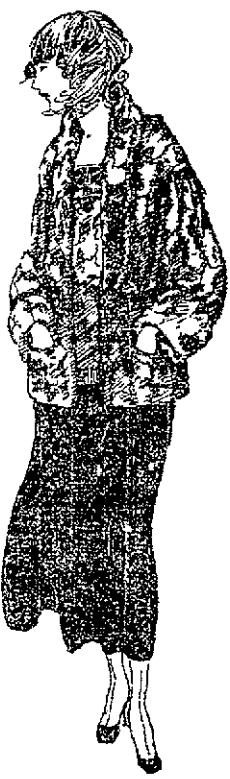

Wonderfully like the furs they imitate are the sport coats in Persian Lamb, well lined and decidedly popular which are specials at $29.75.

No less accurately have Beaver, Otter, Cat, Mink and Hudson Seal been copied in the weaving of the materials from which a splendid line of imitation sport coats has been made. Particularly good are the imitation Hudson Seal coats trimmed with imitation Beaver. These coats are from 16 to 48 measure and are priced at

Full length coats in a beautiful, rich wash are here in a good assortment of sizes and prices.

Not Fur— But New Fur Cloths

They're beautiful and you can't blame anyone for wanting them made into stoles, muffs, entire coats or coat trimmings. Some of the richest and prettiest are

MOON-GLO SATINS shimmering with silver light and a truly beautiful fabric for handsome costumes, Navy, Walnut, Brown and Black 30 in. the yd. $5.00

For Separate Skirts.

Woolens

So long as Fashion smiles upon exquisite blouses there must be separate skirts, and none of the woolens to make the plaited models so popular this year are prettier than the rich shirtings we are showing, some plain, others with Taupe, Gold, Brown, Red and Gray stripes and bars on a Navy Blue background. Widths 10 to 30 inches, at $3.50 to $5.50 the yard.

Buy Your Flour Direct From the Mill, and Cut Down the High Cost of Living.

Our method is the most MODERN, SCIENTIFIC, and SANITARY system of flour milling there is.

By actual test our WHITE MARVEL brand will make 305 pounds of baked bread to the barrel, while flour milled by the common roller system will make only about 200 pounds.

We guarantee this flour to make a whiter and finer grained loaf than can be made of flour milled by the old and prevailing system.

If ordered within the next 10 days we will deliver WHITE MARVEL FLOUR to your depot in not less than five barrels, lots at the following prices:

Packed in Wood — $12.10
Packed in Cotton — $12.20
Packed in Paper — $12.00

Less than five barrels will be 20c more per barrel.

With every two barrel order we will ship 500 pounds of our own make of Flour (100 lb. bags) (mixed) at 50c per cwt. Terms: Cash with order.
